Two Kids One Sandbox is a collaboration between YouTube giants Kian Lawley and Brianna Cottrell. The two have been best friends since kindergarten and had a blast filming their first music video together. They felt the video was more than just two kids playing in a sandbox and decided to call it "Two Kids One Sandbox." All we know is that we're excited for their next release! Watch this funny, quirky, catchy new tune on YouTube or on the HD Player's website. The video starts off with Kian balancing on top of Brianna's back as they walk up to what looks like an abandoned house. The two can be seen walking in slow-motion and singing the song in the beautifully shot scene. They walk into the house, where they are greeted with a beautiful piano melody. Kian sings his part of the song while Brianna mimes him perfectly. Once he's done, Brianna takes her turn to sing her parts of the song, which she does very well. The two then sing together chorus after chorus until Brianna gets tired and falls over Kian who is still balancing on her back. She falls over enough to cause him to fall off of his balance and they both end up giggling on top of each other at their quirky antics. Once the two calm down a bit, the two begin to explore the house more and explore a portion of it. There appears to be a set of stairs going up but Brianna is hesitant on going up them since she doesn't want to fall. Kian reassures her that she will be fine as he takes her hand and climbs up the stairs with her. Once he reaches the top, they walk into what looks like a bedroom. Kian then freaks out on sight of some books that are laying on his bedside table from what he thought were ghosts or something else inside of it. Brianna laughs at him while he gives a funny reaction to some little things in the house. They walk back down the stairs and come across a room with a bunch of windows, both of them wondering what is on the other side. Brianna doesn't want to go through it but Kian pushes her through anyways. Once she's on the other side, she's greeted by flowers that are perfectly in line from one another. She then giggles at that too. While this is happening, Kian climbs up another set of stairs that he found in there too. When Brianna gets to the top, she's again greeted with another painted on window. She slowly climbs through it, amazed at the view before her. She then runs into Kian who has just come out of the doorway that they found at the top of the stairs. They both look at each other with a smile on their face as they are both staring out over some rolling hills. The two begin to sing together some more before sitting down on a bench made out of wood and flowers, which they continue to comment on. After sitting there for a while Kian decides he's having fun and wants to explore more of it.
